

THE RHODE ISLAND WILD PLANT SOCIETY OFFERING GRANT

The Rhode Island Wild Plant Society is offering a grant to aid individuals in the study of wild plants and their habitats. The grant is for up to $500 and includes a one year membership to RIWPS. The grant money is designated to support a project related to Rhode Island's wild plants and can be used for project materials, workshops, or courses related to the project.

The award is open to Rhode Island residents, non-residents enrolled in a Rhode Island educational institution, or members of a Rhode Island botanical or environmental organization

Applications must be received by February 1, 2006.

Additional information and applications can be obtained from the RI Wild Plant Society, by calling (401) 453-3777 or office@riwps.org.

*The Rhode Island Wild Plant Society is a non-profit conservation organization dedicated to the preservation and protection of Rhode Island's native plants and their habitats.
RIWPS, P.O. Box 2488, Providence, RI 0290, www.riwps.org*